

What is TechKnights?

Techknights is a programming club of Rajasthan Technical University, Kota.

We are a group of Tech enthusiasts who work together on coding projects, conduct events and workshops to help students in learning technologies of the Computer Science.

Club Activities:

- C-programming workshop for freshers to give them a start of basic programming.
- Talk to Saksham, a series of interactive sessions with the seniors was organized so that juniors can learn from their experience.
- Regular meetups are organized for tracking the progress of ongoing projects and helping each other.
- We also organize workshops on various technologies. Recently, we organized a workshop on Alexa skills, Firebase and Git and GitHub.
- Another initiative of the club is The Student Podcast, a platform where young minds open up and share wonderful experiences, starting from the sophomore year till the final day of the college.
